

Dear Doctors!

It is a privilege and pleasure to inform you all about the forthcoming event – REFLECT 2017, Eminent Evidence in Critical Care Medicine – planned for the new year at our hospital premises. The forum will involve critique of research papers followed enriching debate and elaborate analysis of the literature and research papers published in the year 2017 (Jan-Dec).

This will enable us to study the observations made by experts from across the world based on evidenced based learning. It will also make our thoughts clear and support us immensely in our future ventures in addition to guiding us to adequately handle the dilemmas we face day to day.

Please block your dates and join us for the discussion. Let us together explore the scientific feast of contemporary knowledge and exciting recent advances in the Critical Care practice.
